CRAFTS, COLLECTIBLES, AND ALL THAT JAZZ
AT KEYPORT FALL STREET MARKET

KEYPORT, N.J. – Live jazz, original art, crafts, and collectibles will fill West Front Street in downtown Keyport on Sunday, September 11, for the borough's Fall Street Market from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is free, and the market will be held rain or shine. Farmers with Jersey-fresh produce and colorful fall plants and flowers will also be on hand throughout the event, presented by the Keyport Business Alliance.

Keyport artists and works from the Mitchell Sanborn Gallery will be displayed, and crafters, artisans and vendors of handworks and collectibles will line West Front Street between Main and Broad streets. In addition to the farmer's market featuring an array of items from Hauser Hill Farms in Old Bridge, there will be a wine tasting presented by The Wine Salon, of Mountain Lakes. Jonny B & the Blues Blazers will perform live jazz to entertain the crowds throughout the day.

West Front Street between Main and Broad streets will be closed to vehicular traffic to promote shopping and browsing at a leisurely pace. Downtown shops and cafes also will be open for business.

The nonprofit Keyport Business Alliance is presenting Fall Street Market with additional support from sponsors 94.3 The Point, Super Foodtown Food Circus, The Family of Straub Automotive Dealerships, Valley National Bank, and www.2keul.com.
